

Belgian Student Reception: AI in Legal Practice & Cocktail/Mocktail Workshop

Are you curious about what a career at an international law firm could look like—and how artificial intelligence is shaping the future of the legal profession?

Join us for an evening where law students at Belgian universities in their Master's or third Bachelor year can meet our lawyers, discover our work and explore the exciting opportunities available to the next generation of legal talent.

Cleary Gottlieb is a leading international law firm with more than 1,100 lawyers across 14 offices worldwide. Our Brussels team is internationally recognized for its work in corporate law and competition law, and we are always keen to meet talented people who want to become outstanding lawyers and be involved in cutting-edge legal matters.

What to expect:

The evening will begin with a presentation about our global firm and Brussels office, including a look at how artificial intelligence is shaping the legal profession and the way we work. This will be followed by a cocktail and mocktail workshop—a fun opportunity to connect with our lawyers and fellow students in a relaxed setting—before we continue with a walking dinner and drinks.
