CLEARY GOTTLIEB

"What I think is part of [Cleary's] success, beyond the pure technical legal skills, is their personal involvement and commitment ... They proved to have deep knowledge of the matter and a dedicated, comprehensive, and interdisciplinary team."

Litigation and Arbitration

A leading international law firm with 16 offices located in major financial centers around the world, Cleary Gottlieb has helped shape the globalization of the legal profession for over 75 years. Cleary has been recognized as one of the top litigation and arbitration groups in the world with clients that include governments, corporations, financial institutions, and individuals in cases that have dominated world business and legal news.

We are committed to providing clients with creative and result-oriented litigation and arbitration counsel — in fact, more than one-third of our U.S. lawyers are litigators. Many of our most important and enduring client relationships originated with a dispute-related matter — testimony to the long-standing trust clients have put in us to protect, enforce, and defend their interests.

Cleary's practice includes a deep bench of former federal prosecutors, the former chief legal counsel of the Enforcement Division of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and a former General Counsel of the SEC. The team regularly draws upon the experience of many other partners who provide experience and credibility with the government, including former senior officials of the U.S. Justice Department's Antitrust Division and the Federal Trade Commission and the former General Counsel of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Cleary's lawyers handle litigation and arbitration involving a wide variety of issues, such as securities, derivatives, M&A, sovereign debt, investment treaties, antitrust, bankruptcy, white-collar crime, employment, executive compensation, intellectual property, and general commercial disputes.
