

Amy Borrus

Deputy Director

Council of Institutional Investors

Amy joined the Council of Institutional Investors (CII) in May 2006 as deputy director. She helps the executive director manage CII strategy, policy development and operations. She oversees CII communications and publications, and is staff liaison to the CII Advisory Council and the Audit Committee of the CII Board of Directors. She also represents CII on panels and other forums.

Before joining CII, Amy was a reporter for BusinessWeek for 25 years. She covered business, finance and politics from Washington, D.C., London and Tokyo.

Amy serves as a director of the National Institute on Retirement Security (NIRS), the CII Research and Education Fund and the Sinai Assisted Housing Foundation.

She earned a B.S. in English and history from the University of Pennsylvania and a master's degree in International Relations from the London School of Economics.